

Little Charmers: Free Salute to our Military

Please sew your design(s) on test fabric before placing on your final project.

Every machine is different and you may need to position the text when you insert it into the designs below.

Dear Canadian Friends:

As I was doing these designs, I realize that your flag is just red and white (rather than red, white and blue). But by making one line of text blue in each of these designs, your machine will stop and wait for you to change colors. You can do all lines of text in red if you like, or, if your background is a dark material (like a sweatshirt or tee-shirt), you might want to alternate with white. By using a second color as we digitized the designs, the choice will be yours.

The text only designs are one line and show as red on your machine. You can use red or any color your prefer.

Positioning the additional text: use the features on your machine to move the additional text up or down to fit into the space created by the first design. The horizontal position should be correct - many machine automatically center a design so it will need to be checked before you begin sewing.

These designs have been manually digitized and carefully tested. They have been sewn out on several different machines using two layers of tear away stabilizer. For my own sweatshirt, I used one layer of heavy duty cutaway with spray adhesive for extra hold to keep the sweatshirt material from bunching.
