I think we should stay here... and wait for help to come!

I tell you, there'll be no help coming... not if you stand on your head from today till tomorrow... which is exactly what you will be doing!

There's only one way to go and that's up! I mean up! I mean, we have to go up to get... I mean, what the heck, follow me!

I'm a preacher! I'll lead you out of here like Moses led his people out of Egypt! Don't even think about what to do when you get to the top. Just do it, and I'll do it, too!

Now, here's my plan... we crawl thru the top flat steel grid and come out thru the rear furnace. Any questions?

Yes... what are you smoking?

I gasp! I can't make it! Why not?

Your buttocks are caught in the bottom edge!

Who said that?

A woman and a child!

Stop with the clowning and let's go already, before I get water on the knees!

I'm too (puff) to climb up this Christmas tree!

What would you like to climb up instead? Mt. Everest? Get moving!

OMIGOSH! There goes my wife! She fell into the fire! She was the only one I ever loved! I can't let it happen! I won't kill myself... I want... do you hear? Die, die, die!

That Shelley woman will do anything to steal a scene!

OMG! Didn't you realize you loved her that much?

I didn't realize... you're too late!

What love? This is my big dramatic scene! I'm blocking for my second Oscar, too, remember?

Isn't everybody in this funny movie?

O.K., we've gone thru melted lava, burning charcoal and glowing embers... now for the hard part! For this last escape, you must each hold your breath as long as possible!

We're going thru a lava flow!

How heavy?

This last passageway is flooded. Now, I'll be the first to swim the eight hundred feet underwater to the final escape hatch. I want you each to follow me when I give the signal. Only one thing I insist on... no splashing! This is not the time to fool around!

When we get out... maybe we'll have a few laughs... but not many!

This last comic is flooded! I can't bear to look at this ridiculous panel!

Two snowmen!

Have no worry! This dumbass is clinging to my clothes!

Man, what a horrible sight!

No, the drawing! I can't bear to look at this ridiculous panel!

Two snowmen!
It's been two hours and he hasn't given us the signal yet. I'm beginning to think something is wrong. Either that, or he isn't a mermaid down there!

I used to be a champion swimmer. I'll go down and see. I was able to hold my breath nineteen minutes when I was 17. Or was it 18? Oh, never mind, here I go!

You're too fat for this job!

Well, we finally made it! Here we are at the hull of the ship and we're gonna be rescued. I hear knocking from the outside!

That too, but I still hear drilling... we're about to be rescued. I know we would be by our performances... only the good die young!

This helicopter will transfer us to another ship... a ship on which we'll finally be safe!

That's great! Which ship is that?

(ulp) I think I'm gonna be sick again!
