

AO4/AO9 Body and well being / Bullying stops here

Intervenients: School community
Students of Academic Association of University

Date : June 2017

Place: School

Nr of students:

Skills targeted:

- They learned to superate difficulties in the relationship, the attitudes and the way they talk
- They worked in group dynamics and role play work in non-formal methodology
- They recognized the violence in dating as a kind of bullying,

Aims and description:

- discussing teenagers' matters: feelings, peer pressure and sexual intercourses.
- to learn how to cope with the problems, how and when seek for help,
- to introduce students with the concept of violence in dating as a kind of bullying,

These activities were conducted in sessions for students of the Club and an arts class. The subjects were approached with role plays, debates and games in a non directive methodology. At the end of each activity was made the assessment

Results / Outcomes: Session and posters

