

Spaces and exchanges

The Notion of Spaces and Exchanges deals with the geographical and symbolic areas that all societies occupy and the interactions between men and different societies.

Our world is built on the exploration and conquest of new spaces.

The different cultural, economic, sociological and language interactions have shaped and characterised our modern-day world.

Examples can be:

- ★ Trade (the basis of all societies)
- ★ Working conditions (telecommuting, internet)
- ★ Globalization (the world has become a small village)
- ★ School and education (social diversity / knowledge)
comparison of the different educational systems
- ★ The Internet / social networks...
- ★ The movement of people: Immigration (Ellis Island)
- ★ The American Dream
- ★ The movement across borders (Gap Year)
