Newest and longest luxury liner of them all... with the beauty and glamour of France in every line, the 1035 foot long S.S. France smooths every sea with her two pairs of stabilizers. Big, roomy cabins—designed and decorated by famous French experts—are all equipped with private facilities, telephone and individual air-conditioning controls. Lower beds only are used on cruises. Lots of closet room, too! And within minutes of any cabin, you can reach the largest indoor theatre afloat—and two swimming pools (one, glass-enclosed and sunlit) with their own private bars and gymnasiums. Explore a magnificent array of public rooms with paintings and tapestries executed by famous contemporary French artists. Throughout the ship are deluxe reading and writing rooms, plush stores, gay cafes and elegant nightclubs. Nearly a mile of open and closed decks invite your participation in deck sports, strolling or plain relaxing. And everywhere, you experience the superb service and special touches that are the hallmark of a French liner. And last, but certainly not least, there's the superb French cuisine—with table wine (compliments of the Line). Allons! Dine, dance, read, play, join convivial friends at cocktails or "Showtime." Name it, it's yours... on the S.S. France!

SS FRANCE

After the sun hides and the evening spreads its romantic cloak the FRANCE begins to breathe music, parties, dining and laughter. Sparkling shows, moonlit dances, midnight buffets all verily set the sea aglow...

a gourmet's delight...
French Line CUISINE

The culinary thrill of a lifetime is yours on the "France." World-famous, award-winning French chefs, proud of their craft and their reputation, ensure that every meal is an event to excite the eye—delight the palate.

From light snack to incomparable cold buffet . . . from croissants to homard à l'armoricaine . . . from breakfast to full-course dinner—you will be utterly enchanted by the artistry of these masters of gastronomy. You'll think your taste buds have been bewitched!

And complementing this unbelievably delicious French cuisine are the men trained to serve you. The versatile maitre d'hotel who suggests just the right course. The expert sommelier, who selects just the right wine and liqueur to go with your meal. The garçon, the steward—all intuitively anticipating your every wish and trained to be there to grant it.

This is the "France" and her cuisine known, on five continents, as the master in the fine art of creating food that—at every turn—stimulates and delights your palate.

On the FRANCE there are amusements and games galore—more than enough to suit your every whim. Shuffleboard, strolling, deck-tennis, quoits, badminton, trap-shooting, swimming . . . even practice golf! Or, if you choose, just lie around and sun yourself a deep-deep brown.

Your
fun-filled
resplendent
itinerary
—to the magic
of the tropics

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique. A bit of France transplanted to the New World, Fort de France has all the basic ingredients to make it an exciting Caribbean playground—a fascinating history, world-renown as a center of gay music and home of the beguine, a gay, ingratiating people, a flora of unexcelled beauty and succulent native dishes such as colombo, calalou, gombos and, needless to say, Martinique rum.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad. The island of Trinidad is the most southerly of the Indies. It is also one of the most colorful and polyglot spots in an area abounding in color and diversity. A rich melting-pot of over 100,000, Port of Spain offers excellent British woolens, inexpensive but superb rum and, above all, silver jewelry. Not to be missed: the unbelievable "upside down" Trinidad Hilton, Pitch Lake, the teak forest, enchanting Maracas Bay, and that verdant, spacious savannah, Queen's Park.

CURACAO, Netherlands West Indies. With its low import duty, this is truly a shopper's paradise and one of the leading centers of the Indies. Swiss watches, German cameras, French perfumes, Irish linen, ivory and silk from the Orient, Delft porcelain, liquor and liqueurs can be had at bargain rates. The island itself is a miniature version of Holland with its gabled roofs and narrow buildings, especially in Willemstad, its capital. Also visit Curacao Intercontinental—it offers tourists many attractions and gracious hospitality.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti. This is the cultural center of the West Indies. The Centre d'Art is an important exhibition center and more and more Americans are buying outstanding examples of its primitive art. The Iron market is another spot to shop at. And in the nearby hills, it is still possible to see voodoo dancing! A forbidden thrill not to be missed!

Clothing: Light summer clothing should be taken for wear during the greater part of the cruise. During the first and last day or two winter clothing will be needed. Most passengers will wish to dress informally during the day, both on board ship and ashore; fancy costumes for the more formal party are suggested. Ladies will find dinner or cocktail dresses essential, while gentlemen will normally wear tuxedos, and/or white dinner jackets, especially on nights when the ship is not in port.

SPECIAL SHIP ENTERTAINMENT

Shore Excursions: A comprehensive program of optional sightseeing at the ports of call will be offered. Full details and prices will be made available on board.

Transfers: The transfer of passengers by the regular tender service between the cruise ship and the shore is arranged by the French Line, and such transfers are subject to the terms and conditions of the passage contract issued by the French Line. However, the French Line assumes no responsibility with regard to transfers and for special trips or sightseeing from the vessel or shore to destination other than the regular landing and for disembarking or embarking of passengers from the cruise ship.

On Land: The French Line's responsibility does not extend beyond its own vessel, and whenever passengers leave it, any arrangements made by or for them are at their own risk.

ENTERTAINMENT

Schedule and Itinerary: The schedule and itinerary are subject to change for any reason which is sufficient in the judgment of the Master of the vessel.

Withdrawal: The French Line reserves the right to withdraw the cruise if through unforeseen circumstances, it becomes necessary to do so and having refunded all passage money collected, there can be no further claim against the company.

Special Notice: The SS FRANCE sails under the command and control of the French Line and passengers are subject to the terms and conditions of the passage contract issued by that company.

The French Line and/or the Tourist Companies handling shore excursions give notice that all tickets and coupons are issued for them, and all arrangements for transportation or conveyance are made by them as agents only, upon the express condition that they shall not be liable for any injury, damage, loss, accident, delay or irregularity which may be occasioned either by reason or default in any means or conveyance or facility used in the carrying out of the cruise or the shore excursions, or through the acts or defaults of any company or person engaged in carrying out the arrangements of the cruise or the shore excursions or otherwise in connection therewith.

Right is reserved to abandon the cruise and/or shore excursions for causes, to change the itinerary, whenever conditions in the interest of the Master of the Vessel render it necessary, to decline to accept or retain any person as a member of the cruise at any time, to require any person to surrender his shore excursion tickets, and to withdraw from said tour or cruise upon each adjustment as the management deems fair for the unused portion of the ticket.

It is understood and agreed that refund cannot be made to persons who do not complete the cruise for any cause whatsoever, nor will any return be made to persons who do not take the shore excursions.

All rates, schedules, and other information given in this folder are subject to change without notice.
