

MachThree
Los Angeles

Level 6 Contributor

15,783 posts

58 reviews

Disney Land or Universal Studios?

Disneyland and Universal are two very famous theme parks, but if you can't visit both, be sure to make the right choice. Here are a few tips to help you make up your mind.

First, it is important to know that Universal Studios is closer to Los Angeles than Disneyland. So if you don't like sitting in traffic for hours, go to Universal. The park is only ten minutes away from Beverly Hills and more easily accessible by public transportation.

Then, the price! If your budget is limited choose Universal. It is more affordable than Disneyland. And if your time is limited, go to Universal Studio. The park is smaller than Disneyland so you can cover all the attractions in one day.

Another important point you mustn't forget to take into consideration while making up your mind is the attractions. In Disneyland there are more rides and attractions than in Universal studios. The rides in Disneyland are also more adapted to young children aged 2 to 10.

Finally, you must remember that Disneyland is only about Disney characters! So if you are more interested in Popular Hollywood productions like Jurassic Park, Transformers or Harry Potter, we recommend you visit Universal Studios.

1. Read the 1st paragraph and identify the subject of this article.

2. Read the article and underline all the information that could help the reader to make the right choice.

3. a. Try to define categories to classify this information

b. Draw a grid in your copybook to classify the information that are useful to make the right choice

Category
Information

4. Highlight in yellow the adjectives that show the author of the article is comparing the two parks.

5. Highlight in blue the words that structure the article.

6. Find the English equivalent for the words or expressions below.

faire le bon choix :

un conseil :

passer des heures dans les bouchons :

se décider :

les transports en commun :

prendre en compte :

un manège :